Mariola Italian welcomes you with open arms and a story of family, tradition, and a journey that spans oceans and generations. It all began in Carovilli, Italy, from where Felice Mariola, our founder Mike Mariola's great-grandfather, immigrated in 1915.

The value of friendliness embodied by the patron saint of Carovilli, Santo Stefano del Lupo, has been carried forward on our journey. Legend has it that the saint prayed for a wolf disturbing his herd of sheep to become friendly, and it did. This spirit is still alive at Mariola Italian.

Friendliness and tradition are at the heart of everything we do. Our family's journey led first to the hardworking streets of Akron, Ohio, where we continued to honor our roots and values. And now, we call Wooster home.

We are proud to continue the family legacy of creating and enjoying American-Italian comfort food while celebrating our heritage and the memories of those who came before us.

Michael A. Mariola
